Community Art Project

Event attendees also are invited to participate in an ongoing community fiber-art project lead by current Breck Create Artist-in-Residence Mary Robinson. Robinson will work with the Summit County community to create a site-specific outdoor/indoor installation, titled Invitation, at the Robert Whyte House, located on the Arts District Campus. Combining her own repurposed materials with those collected from the local community, Robinson and any interested participants will weave and piece together repurposed fabric and paper and recycled plastic while contemplating material waste and material appreciation: With awareness and collaboration, we can give material a new life. The art installation will visually reflect the natural surroundings and local community. Participants will learn how to create beads from repurposed paper and fabric, fabric from scrap thread and yarn, raw-edged appliqué with repurposed fabric and how to print with and on repurposed fabric.

In addition to the AirStage Summer Après events, community members are invited to weave, piece and create forms for the project during Robinson's Open Studios. To donate pre-owned fabric, yarn, thread, rope, orange plastic barrier mesh, burlap or paper for the project, please contact Drea Edwards at drea@breckcreate.org.

About the AirStage

Breck Create takes concerts outside, on the road and into your neighborhood with the AirStage, a mobile stage inside the shell of an Airstream that was unveiled in the summer of 2021. Silver Bullet Trailers retrofitted the 1975 Airstream Ambassador Travel Trailer to accommodate a 14.5-foot wide by 9-foot deep stage. Performances at the AirStage include neighborhood concerts, family-friendly pop-ups, artist residencies and special donor events as well as programming that supports Breck Create. In general, these are free events with the goal of connecting neighbors within the communities of Breckenridge and greater Summit County.
